INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR

ADMINISTRATIVE ACTION FACING SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

24 November 2023

Sala Jacopo D'Ardizzone - Via C. Montanari, 9 – Verona

9.30 Welcome Address
Stefano Troiano, Head of the Department of Law, University of Verona

9.45 Introducing Remarks
Paolo Duret, University of Verona

10.00 - I session - Chair: Paolo Duret

Sustainable development and administrative procedure

New administrative procedures codification in Slovenia as a driver of sustainable development
Polonca Kovač, University of Ljubljana

Towards a new code of administrative procedure in Romania: the possible role of sustainable development
Mihaela Cărăuşan, National University of Political Studies and Public Administration Bucharest

11.00 – 11.30 coffee break

Composite Procedures and Sustainable Development. The Polish Perspective
Łucasz Prus – University of Wrocław

Sustainable development and digitalisation: the Hungarian perspective
Erzsébet Csatlós, University of Szeged

12.30 LUNCH

15.00 - II Session - Chair: Giovanna Ligugnana

Sustainable development and administrative justice: challenges for environmental protection

The role of administrative courts in environmental protection in Croatia
Frane Staničić, University of Zagreb

Environmental justice in Poland: the case of the Turow power station
Anna De Ambrosis Vigna, University of Białystok

16.00 – 16.30 coffee break

III Session – Chair: Paolo Duret

Sustainable development, communities, and Local Government

Sustainable development and local self-government: administrative procedures on priority investments and the autonomy issues of Local Governments in Hungary
Judit Siket, University of Szeged

Sustainable development and Local Government: the role of Italian provinces
Matteo Pressi, University of Verona

18.00 Concluding Remarks
Giovanna Ligugnana, University of Verona