RELATIONAL SKILLS

From a very young age, I have been involved in voluntary work, specifically in the intercultural and international spheres and more generally addressing people in difficulty. The different experiences, shared with other volunteers and with the 'recipients', have always been an opportunity for discussion, dialogue and personal growth. They have also helped me develop certain skills such as the ability to work in a team, practical and logistical sense, development of a working method, sense of responsibility and adaptability.

ORGANISATIONAL SKILLS

Through the following experiences, and through educational work, I developed the skills mentioned above. Specifically:

2017/18: I designed training modules on intercultural competences for CIRMIB, Catholic University of Brescia;

Since May 2016, I have been the president of the ACLI club in Rovato;

Since 2010 I have been organising the Fabula Mundi geopolitics course proposed by the association Ipsia Brescia and Acli Bresciane;

August 2009: volunteer and group leader at the international volunteer camp on food processing and animation in Meru (Kenya) at Meru Herbs with the NGO Ipsia of Acli;

November 2008: I founded and took on the presidency of the voluntary association 'Ipsia Brescia' Onlus, which deals with the promotion of international voluntary work, the support of development projects carried out by the NGO 'Ipsia', and the promotion of the culture of peace and coexistence among peoples;

From January 2008 to March 2016 I was provincial councillor of Acli Bresciane;

August 2007: volunteer and group leader at the international volunteer camp in Recife (Brazil) with Ipsia;

From March 2002 to September 2003 I took part as a volunteer and group leader in the organisation, setting up and management, especially of the educational aspect, of two international voluntary summer camps in Kosovo (at an Albanian village and a Serbian enclave) with the associations PI@netnoprofit of Milan and Sprofondo Imperia

From May 2001 to December 2002 I volunteered with the association 'Liberi Studenti d'Italia' in the field of training high school students in active citizenship, European exchanges, voluntary work.

July 2001: volunteer at the work camp organised by the NGO 'Manitese' on the collection, disposal and sale of recycled materials and objects to finance the construction of a school in Burkina Faso;

From October 1998 to May 2001 I served as a volunteer auxiliary on the ambulances of a public assistance association, 'Croce Maria Bambina' ;

In the school year 98/99 I was a student representative on the school council and in the school year 2000/2001 I was my school's representative on the provincial student council.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

I am in possession of the ECDL computer licence acquired through university and therefore have good knowledge of Windows applications (Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Access) and also in navigating the Internet and using e-mail.

ARTISTICAL SKILLS

I have always exercised, both at work and in voluntary activities, my artistic skills gained in school and through courses, specifically by running manual and expressive workshops. I took a singing course for two years.
